

Products

- Holds wiring, tubing, ducting and other components away from the structure to prevent damage from vibration and chafing.
- Clip-on, bonded and/or riveted threaded spacers utilize metallic and non metallic materials in a wide range of configurations.
- For applications where higher loads are experienced, bolt-through spacers and standoffs are available in one and two lug configurations. These spacers are available in many materials and configurations and mate with standard riveted nut plates.